

Lilian Putincanin

Born in Arandjelovac, Serbia, living in Zug, Switzerland, since 1963.
Painting since 1969, mostly oil on canvas, first exposition in 1974
Her paintings represent “the beauty of everyday life”.

Harmony and happiness are her topics as she wishes everyone a happy world:
poetry, plenty of love, joy and fun.

Her observations of life are not spectacular events but moments of everyday, which are sometimes hardly noticed.

For her even such moments are significant and she cannot remove them from life.
First of all, one can see love in any of her paintings, love for children, love for the partner, the world around.

She votes for peace, tolerance, aid as there is plenty of sorrow in the world.
Her slogan is that devotion and a smile always make a better world.

She has exhibited her paintings at 19 expositions of her own and more than 90 together with other artists, in Zurich, Geneva, Belgrade, Toronto, Moscow, Berlin, Bahia Blanca and many other places all over the world.

Since its inception, she was founding member and chair of the Swiss “Uros Predic” painter and sculptor group, and is still presiding it.

Her workshop is at the Muehlegasse 25, 6340 Baar, and she can be reached best on
